

Your data - your greatest ally...

But why?

- Accessibility
- Exponentially Increasing Volume
- Enhanced Client Care
- GDPR
- Accurate Client Connections
- Energy-Efficiency
- Trend Prediction and Seizing Opportunities
- Inform Decision Making
- Impact Measurement
- Reporting to Funders

Sharepoint and your data

- Tagging
- Access
- Security
- Recoverability
- Ease

Food for thought...

- We need to create our own time and space to think, to find our own critical friends, to cut through the volume and distractions, to recognise the need for focus and realise we can no longer know everything...
- An organisation must be 'data guided' not 'database led' if it is to realise its key organisational strategic objectives
- The data strategy must be viable, actionable and sustainable (not a document which sits on the shelf)
- Accountability, accountability, accountability...

But How?

1. Internal discussions for buy-in
2. Agree processes and protocols
3. Review
4. Examine
5. Cleanse
6. Carve out the time
7. One ultimately responsible
8. Clear maintenance data management/data model organisation wide going forward

Final thought...

The time carved out for organising the internal and external data of an organisation will be re-paid ten fold in the future 😊
